

What people are saying...

Foreword by New York Times bestselling author Ken Blanchard

"The Homes of Hope Story is not just a wonderful book, it is at once a fascinating tale of entrepreneurship, a joyful guide for building a non-profit, and more than anything else, an inspiring lesson in obeying the Lord's call to serve "the least of our brothers." What makes it particularly powerful is the tangible, realistic nature of Sean's story. Homes of Hope is about real people trusting God enough to take one small step at a time, and knowing that He will turn those small steps into something great for His honor and glory. This story has changed me, my family, and my company in profound ways. Read it, and don't be afraid to take a small step of your own."

— Patrick Lencioni

Author of eleven bestselling business books including The Advantage, and The Five Dysfunctions of a Team

"Homes of Hope has changed a countless number of lives, including mine. The tangible product they provide in the form of a home for a family in need, while important, pales in comparison to the spiritual and emotional impact left on both the recipients and builders of the home. I am thankful for Sean Lambert and his commitment to such an awesome cause!"

— Shawn Johnson East
Olympic Gold Medalist 2008

"Homes of Hope is an incredible service experience for you, your family, or your business associates to go on. Building for the poor is a life changing experience not just for the family receiving the house, but for those that come to serve as well."

— David Browne
CEO, LensCrafters (Retired)

"This is the inspiring story of how God has richly blessed tens of thousands of people through Homes of Hope ... and not just the poor. Many times I have taken my family or leadership team to build a home for a poor family. We went to transform the lives of others, but each time found that we also experienced a profound transformation. Homes of Hope is the best hands-on mission experience that I have ever done."

— Kevin Jenkins
President and CEO, World Vision International

"Doing good in the name of Christ has always involved both sharing the gospel, and also helping the physical needs of those in want. Sean Lambert's book is an inspiring narrative of how his and his wife Janet's ministry has integrated both of these themes seamlessly. You will learn lots of life lessons for your own growth as well. Highly recommended."

— Dr. John Townsend
New York Times* bestselling author
Founder, The Townsend Institute of Leadership and Counseling

The Home of Hope Story:
It Matters to This One

ISBN: 978-1576589922

Publisher: YWAM Publishing

176 pages . Hardcover

Retail: $23.99

ASIN: B06ZZK9NL1

Kindle . $9.99

Media Relations:

(Ms.) "Sam" Jernigan
Renaissance Consultations
sam@MarketingAndPR.com
cell: 530.362.1339 (PST)

www.TheHomesOfHopeStory.com